Rating Action and Rationale

- EthiFinance Ratings affirms ProSiebenSat.1 Media SE's (PSM) long-term rating at BB+, but changes its outlook from Stable to Positive.
- Our positive outlook reflects the expectation of an improvement in overall credit metrics over the next two years. This progress could potentially lead to a rating upgrade, considering PSM's current standing within its rating category.
- Our rating affirmation is supported by PSM's resilient financial profile despite some deterioration in 2023, and its leading position in the German-speaking (DACH) media market, where it commands a 24.6% audience share among viewers aged 14 to 49. In FY23, the company reported another revenue decline of 7.5%, due to weaker advertising and content sales (-16% vs FY22) and underperformance in both the entertainment and dating & video business lines (-13% vs FY22). While the advertising-based business model is inherently cyclical, the German TV advertising market has lagged behind key European peers like the UK, France and Italy, which have broadly returned to pre-pandemic levels. Addressing this challenge, PSM has prioritized diversification beyond linear TV advertising revenue. The company's hybrid video-on-demand (HVOD) platform, "Joyn", has emerged as a key growth driver within the digital & smart segment, achieving a 62% increase in monthly users between 3Q24 and 3Q23. To further differentiate from global streaming players, ProSiebenSat.1 focuses on exclusive local and live programming, leveraging its production hub, Seven, to strengthen its content offerings. The EthiFinance Ratings adjusted EBITDA margin declined by 120 bps YoY, mainly due to challenges in the entertainment and dating & video segments. Consequently, the EthiFinance adjusted net leverage has slightly deteriorated from 2.8x in FY22 to 3.2x in FY23. However, we expect this ratio to progressively improve to 2.0x by 2026, along with other credit metrics. Another factor supporting our rating is the favorable assessment of the industry, which is characterized by high margins (Average EBIT margin ~15%), in addition to high barriers of entry.
- However, our current rating is constrained by the macro headwinds in the German TV Ad market and the pressure from streaming platforms. The latter threatens both audience reach and monetization, which are central to PSM's business model. While the company's non-advertising segments, such as dating and commerce, accounted for 33.5% of FY23 sales, the remaining 66.5% of revenue remains heavily reliant on cyclical market trends as well as consumer behavior inherent to advertising. These factors are volatile, requiring PSM to adapt its strategies swiftly, in order to maintain competitiveness.
- Under our methodology, the media & entertainment industry has moderate ESG risks (sector heatmap score between 2 and 3.5), which is neutral for our industry assessment. The sector has a low impact on climate, biodiversity, and resource use, while also providing valuable infrastructure to communities – a factor we assess positively. However, given its extensive reach and influence, this industry could potentially pose risks to consumers. This makes corporate responsibility, the quality of information, and related ethical considerations particularly important.
- On a company level, we assign an ESG score of between 1.5 and 3.5, which is neutral in our assessment. This change compared to our last review results from the yoy increase in energy and carbon use by 8% and 23%, respectively. By 2030, PSM targets the goal of climate neutrality by lowering its energy consumption and sourcing electricity from renewable energy sources.

Issuer Description

Headquartered in Germany, PSM is a media company, specializing in advertising-financed free-to-air television. Its core television channels include SAT.1, ProSieben and Kabel Eins. PSM operates across 3 primary business segments: (i) Entertainment (c. 67% of FY23 revenues), (ii) Commerce & Ventures (c. 21%) and (iii) Dating & Video (c. 12%). The company focuses on the DACH region, covering German-speaking countries in Europe, including Germany, Austria, and Switzerland. Through its network of free and pay-TV channels, PSM creates, distributes and monetizes virtual content, with advertising serving as its largest revenue driver with c.58% of FY23 revenue. Additionally, PSM capitalizes on advertising synergies through other ventures such as online shops, digital platforms and its hybrid video-on-demand (HVOD) platform "Joyn". ProSiebenSat.1 Media SE is publicly listed on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange, with a free float of 59.1% and a market capitalization of €1.12bn as of 18 November, 2024.

For FY23, the company reported revenues of €3.85bn for EthiFinance Ratings-adjusted EBITDA of €570m and the net adjusted leverage ratio stood at 3.2x.

Liquidity

We assess the liquidity profile as "Good" reflecting its strong refinancing profile as well as its high level of liquidity.

Rating Sensitivity

- List of ratings:
  - LT Rating: BB+

Factors that may (individually or collectively) impact the rating:

- Positive factors (↑)

Given the positive outlook, we could upgrade our long-term rating should the company improve its credit ratios on the back of a better coverage of interest costs and a successful deleveraging strategy. Such an upgrade could be triggered by an adjusted net leverage of 2.5x or lower along with an interest coverage ratio of 8.0x or higher, on a sustainable basis. Also, a rating upgrade could also occur if the company's ESG score falls below 1.5.

- Negative factors (↓)

We may consider downgrading our long-term rating if the company's credit ratios deteriorate beyond current expectations due to revised guidance or adverse macroeconomic conditions. A downgrade could be triggered if the adjusted net leverage exceeds 5.0x or if the interest coverage ratio falls below 4.0x.
